

Worst Health Care Data Breaches Uncovered in 2018

Hancock Health, ID

Attack Vector: Network hack using stolen credentials, SamSam ransomware
Damage: System-wide outage caused by Ransomware, ~$50,000 in ransom payment
Patients Exposed: Unknown

January

UnityPoint Health, WI

Attack Vector: Phishing emails
Damage: Exposed patient names, addresses, medical data, treatment information, lab results, some Social Security numbers and payment details
Patients Exposed: 1,400,000

July

Singapore Gov. Health DB

Attack Vector: Network hack
Damage: Exposed demographic information, patient identification numbers, some medication information (incl. the prime minister)
Patients Exposed: 1,500,000

July

January

Oklahoma State University Center for Health Sciences, OK

Attack Vector: Unauthorized third party access
Damage: Exposed patient names, Medicaid numbers, provider names, service dates, treatment information
Patients Exposed: 280,000

May

LifeBridge Health, MD

Attack Vector: EMR server hacking and malware infection
Damage: Exposed demographic information, DOB, medical history, clinical and treatment information, insurance data, some Social Security numbers
Patients Exposed: 500,000

July

LabCorp, NC

Attack Vector: SSH Brute-Force attack, SamSam ransomware
Damage: Network shutdown, test processing halted and customer access blocked
Patients Exposed: Unknown (estimated to be millions)

